Social and Personal

The Vigil.

I see the window of my sweet—
The reilised window toward the west,
The odor of the marguerite,
Beneath my footstep harshly pressed
Is faint and rare. I hear the beat,
It almost seems, within her breat,
Of her thrice tender heart, and feel
Its vibrant passion stir her rest!

And through the open window borne And through the open wandow in subtle tinefure on the air,
The perfumes of the roses worn
At last night's ball a message bear that my heart with passion torn!
Light-winged, they wander outward where I stand, and whisper low unto The eager car of my despair.

What if-but vain the thought I fear What if—but vain the thought I fear
The lilac curtains drawn aside.
My sleeping beauty should appear
And I should see her tender-eyed!
Vain phantasy! The white dawn clear
Will touch her lids to waking wide!
Till then she dreams; but never dreams
Who watches in the moonlight here!
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Plea for Woman's Exchange. A member of the Board of the Richmond Exchange for Woman's Work makes the following plea through the columns of The Times-Dispatch for the Exchange, which says:

"Give us this day our daily bread."

"Give us this day our daily bread."
With all due earnestness these words are speken morning and night until they seem a part of every day's life and duty. The words are the same for all, but how different the invocation when uttered by the woman who toils day by day, that her labor may bear substantial fruit, in enabling her to care for loved ones dependent upon her effort,

Many such women work for the Exchange, women who wonder if to-morrow will bring them more and better employment than to-day, who are hoping against hope that each day as it passes will offer something better for them to look forward to in realization. As it is now, in comething better for them to look forward to in realization. As it is now, in many instances, orders placed with the Woman's Exchange, at the corner of Third and Franklin, such as the marking of bousehold linen and napery in embroidered letters, or with indelible ink; such as darning of all corts, from the most delicate laces to the mending and pressure of clatting and hose-all these things are done and well done by women who have no capital to use in outlay, but who are more dependent by far upon the work intrusted to them than are the consignors of the beautiful and costly articles with which the showcases of the Exchange are filled.

The Exchange has done a vast amount of good in the wast few thurs by being of good in the past few years by being the dispenser of help to women who are unable, on account of their environment unable, on account of their environment or age, to undertake the duties of an office or business position, but who are thankful to mend socks for bachelors, to cover quilts, overhaul and darn fine linen for the busy house wife and do any branch of plain sewing for those who require such to be done.

Carter-Atkinson.

wedding of Miss Roberta Atkinsor The wedding of Miss Roteria Akinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Atkinson, to Mr. Spencer Leslie Carter, the son of Major Thomas N. Carter, of the University of Virginia, was celebrated Wednesday afternoon, November 20th, at 4 o'clock, in Holy Trinity Church.

Mess Edg. and Miss. Ellipseth. Alkinson.

Miss Eda and Miss Elizabeth Atkinson were the two bridesmaids and only attendants of the bride. Mr. Jonathan Bryan officiated as best man, and the groomsmen were Mr. J. W. Atkinson, Mr. Robert B. Campbell, Mr. A. Randolph Holladay, Mr. Huns In Cary, Mn. W. C. Noland, Mr. William Carter, of Baltimore, and Dr. R. P. Bland. A reception was given after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, No. 101 West Frank-Mn Street. were the two bridesmaids and only at

Among those from a distance who came Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, Miss ence Field, Miss Carlisle, Mr. Mande orence Field, Miss Carlisle, Mr. Mande-lle Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Rozier Du-ney and Mr. James Ellerson, of Wash-gton, D. C.; Mr. Robert E. Lee, Jr., Fairfax; his mother, Mrs. W. H. F., e., of "Ravenswood," Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Fe L. Marshall and Miss Packard, of althore and Mr. and Berchen Carl Baltimore, and Mr. and Benehan Cam-eron of North Carolina.

When Mr. and Mrs. Carter return from their wedding trip, they will make their home in Ballimore, where Mr. Carter, formerly a resident of this city, is now established in business.

Out-of-Town Society.

Miss Nancy Lathrop Carrover Leiter, the daughter of the late Levi Z. Leiter and Mrs. Leiter, was married to Major Colin Powys Campbell Tuesday at the Leiter residence, in Dupont Circle, which was decorated in palms, chrysanthemums and roses.

The ceremony, on account of the bride's mourning, was very simple, and was only mourning, was very simple, and was only witnessed by the family and Lady Lina Howard, daughter of the Earl of Suffolk, who was best man to the groom.

The bride came in with her brother, Mr. The bride came in with her brother, Mr. Joseph Leifer, who gave her away. She looked very beautiful in her bridal gown of instreless white sattn, with garniture of French lace. A filmy yell of the same thin lace almost completely enveloped her tall, stender figure. Orange blossoms held

MAKES BREAD THAT FATTENS

BAKING POWDER.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fall to secure at least a few injustes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Eliot Norton.

WHEN LOVELY WOMAN.

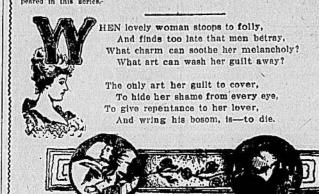

By OLIVER GOLDSMITH.

These verses are from the celebrated prose romance, "The Vicar of Wekefield."

According to that story they were sung by Olivia, who, having been carried off by the vibiain, Thornhill, had returned in seeming disgrace to the hause of her father, who, nevertheless, treated her with consideration.

It should be remembered that the argument of these verses is not in favor of suicide. Olivia merely expresses a desire to die naturally in order to avoid public diagrace. She did not, however, die at that time. She lived to see her name untarnished.

The potrait algorithms of the property of the potrait algorithms of the second of the potrait algorithms. The portrait, signature and biographical sketch of Goldsmith having already appeared in this series.

the veil to the coiffure. She carried a cluster of orange blossoms and an ivory bound prayer book. Long strands of beautiful pearls were her only ornaments.

After n few weeks Major and Mus, Supper is served nightly and lunch can be had by business men and others every bound prayer book. Long strands of beautiful pearls were her only ornaments. After a few weeks Major and Mars. Campbell will sail for England to join the bride's sister, Lady Curzon. Major Campbell is a distinguished officer of the Central India house and his acquaintance with the bride begun when she was the guest of Lady Curzon.

It is announced from Washington that Miss Kathlens Clayton, daughter of the Miss Kathlene Clayton, daughter of the United States Ambassador to Mexico and sister of Baroness Moncheur, wife of the sistor of Baroness Moncheur, wife of the Belgian Minister, has broken her engagement to Mr. Grant Duff, attache to the British Embassy to Mexico.

donated it for the benefit of the monument fund, for which purpose it will be raffied.

Five hundred copies of the Confederate meaning to argue the Bry Dr. Beyerly D.

British Embassy to Mexico.

No special reason is given for the cancelling of the engagement, which was announced early last summer, the young woman seemingly having simply claimed the right of her sex to change her mind.

Among the wedding gifts received by Mrs. Arthur Iselin, whose wedding in St. Agnes Chapel, New York city, was a society event of Tuesday were:

From Colonel Jay, the old Jay silver tea service, which belonged to her greatgrandfather; from the bridegroom, three diamond sunbursts; from the bride's aunt, Mrs. Richard Henderson, an emeraid pen-

Mrs. Richard Henderson, an emerald pen dant; from Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs. a clock: from Hermann Oelrichs, silver; from the Duchess of Marlborough, a diamond bracelet; from Mrs. O. H. P. Bel-mont, a diamond bow knot; from Mr. and Mrs. "William Iselin, a check, and from Adrian Iselin, small table silver.

Formal announcement has just been made of the chargement of Miss Louise at Cespola, of New York city, to Captain Guy S. Barker, who already figured as her fiance at the funeral of her father, General Louis P. di Cespola, last week. Captain Barker is a brother of Mrs. John Manning, of Albany, where he formerly lived. He was a member of General Oli-ver's staff of the Third Brigade, and now Confederate Bazaar.

The following mention of the Confederate Bazaar now being held in Armory Norfolk, is taken from the Nor folk Ledger, and will be read with interest by the many here who are hoping for the success of the Bazaar. The mention says; There will be music and dancing each be had by business men and others every day at the Bazaar.

There have been many donations to the Bazaar, and one made last night is worthy of especial mention. It is a hand-painted pitcher, with the portrait of General Robert E. Lee on one side and the Confederate flags on the other—the work of Miss Florence Smith, of this city, who donated it for the benefit of the monument fund, for which purpose it will be raffed.

Five hundred copies of the Confederate memorial verses, by Rev. Dr. Beverly D. Tucker, have been specially printed for the Buzaur, and are meeting with ready sale.

Come and be Measured on Thursday night at the residence of Mr. J. H. King, No. 700 West Marshall Street,

At our measurement party, We hope you will be; The fun will be great, Though small is the fee.

Two cents for each foot, And for each fraction thereof, Add one dent an inch; Of course, with hats off.

So come and be measured; Remember the date— Thursday, December the 1st, About half-past 8.

The proceeds will be used in prepar-ing a box of winter clothing for a needy preacher's family in Indian Territory.

Butler-Wrenn.

Miss Mary Edna Wrenn and Mr. Oscar Butler were married at 7:30 A. M., November 30th, in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Arm-strong, of No. 2100 East Broad Street, the Rov. G. Olis Mead, of Christ Episcopal Church, officiating. The parlors were grouped with palms and the music was directed by Miss M. Fannie Taylor. Mr.
Archie L. Wrenn, the brother of the bride, was best man to the groom.
The bride was cowned in a brown tallor

The bride was gowned in a brown tallorer suit with brown hat and gloves and carried a shower of Bride roses. She revening, and also special entertainments. Is the daughter of Mr. C. R. Wrenn and Indeed the Bazaar affords a very delight-

CUT THIS OUT AND KEEP IT. YOU WILL WANT TO READ THIS

STORY LATER, IF NOT NOW

THE WHITE COMPA

BY MAIL

Best Sewing Machine Needles

FOR ALL MAKES OF MACHIENS ONLY 5 CENTS

Per Package.

Postage one cent for 1 to 20 package. Send Coin or Stamps. State kinds wanted.

THE SINGER MANFO CO. 19 West Broad Street, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler are now enjoying a Northern wedding trip. After December 10th they will be at No. 1413 East Broad Emma Andrews Club.

The Emma Andrews Whist Club will neet with Mrs. Charles Davenport, West Franklin Street, Friday afternoon, at half after 4 o'clock.

Shelburne-lames.

The marriage of Miss Mary James to Mn Victor Shelbourne will take place this evening in Grace Episcopal Church. Mr. Louis Mnyo, of Roanolte, has arrived and will be Mr. Shelbourne's best man. Dr. and Mrs. Armistead, of Roanoke, whi also attend the wedding

Whist Party.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith. of No. 22
South First Street, entertained last ovoning at whist from 8 to 11 o'clock. Refreshments were served on the card tables at the conclusion of the game. Players included Mrs. Clara Moore, Mr. H. Rutherfoord, Miss Annie Craig, of Basic City, Mrs. Wirtley. Bicherson. of Newport erfoord, Miss Annie Craig, of Basic City; Mrs. Wirtley Richerson, of Newport News; Miss Myrthe Tucker, Miss Mary Kidd, Miss Humphreys, and Mr. J. P. Humphreys, of Lynchburg; Mr. J. T. Thursby, Pittsburg; Mr. O, Granger, Mr. Mark Olles, Mr. D. D, Daniels, of Man-chester, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Augusta Hundley Cobbs and her attractive little daughter, Marion Lee, are spending the winter with Mrs. Gran-bery Vandersice, at 317 South Fourth Street.

Mrs. George Hurkamp Warren, of Phila-delphia, is the guest of her mother, Mrs I. M. Alfriend.

Mrs. Wysor and Miss Wysor, the wife and daughter of Dr. Wysor of Clifton Forge, Va., are spending a few days at 26 East Franklin Street.

Mrs. Nannie Coleman is visiting in the nome of Mr. D. L. Gravatt, of Fredericks-. . .

Mrs. Herbert A. Claiborne is at home again after a visit to St. Louis, Detroit, Cincinnati, and other western cities.

Dr. Waller Jameson, of Roanoke, who was in Richmond for Thanksgiving, and who has recently return from abroad, will soon leave for Seattle, Washington, where he has decided to establish himself in the practice of medicine.

A porch extending across the front of the old Everett house in Martinsburg. V. Va. once served as a post of vantage from which General Robert E. Lee reviewed his troops us they passed south ward after the battle of Gettysburg. It ward after the battle of Gettysourg. It has just been torn down.

Miss Jennie Maitinnd and Miss Kannie Fickien, who have been visiting in Richmond, have left for their homes, in Fredericksburg.

Misses Mae and Jane Boyden and Miss Hazel Bolton have returned to Charlottes-ville after spending a gay Thanksgiving in Richmond.

Miss Helen Liebman, Atlanta, Ga., is visiting Mrs. Myer Frank, 103 West Grace Street.

Street,
Miss Page Fitzgerald annou Pierriage of her niece, Louile Fitzgerald Pierce, to John C. Shore, at her honte, No. 107 North Third Street, December 14, 1804, at 2 P. M. After a Northern tour they will reside in Washington, D. C.

FULTON NEWS.

The Fulton Mission for the Relief of the Poor and Needy in Fulton and vicinity will open to-day at its quarters, No. 2016 Williamsburg Avenue. The institution is undenominational and will treat all those worthy of its help in a like manner, cdibles, clothius, etc., will be distributed. Donations of any

DAILY FASHION HINTS.

Misses' Dressing Sack.

No. 4183. This is the day of the dressing sack—Japanese, flowing, tight-fitting, long or short styles, but dressing sacks, just the same. Everyone has her own particular style, and for those who like the fitted ones heat, we offer the design illustrated. The back is adjusted by slight gathers at the walst line and an undernrm gore. The loose fronts may be belted down if preferred. A pretty collar gives finish to the walst and may be made of contrasting or same material as the walst. Feather stitching and lace may further embellish the sack if additional trimming is desired. french flannel, fleece backed cottons and challes are suitable woolien materials, while any of the cotton weaves in florel or hold designs are pretty.

Material required for medium size, three yards, 26 inches wide.

Sizes 12, 14 and 16 years.

Sizes 12, 14 and 16 years.
On receipt of 10 cents this pattern will be sent to any address. All orders must be directed to THE LITTLE FOLKS PATTERN CO., Nos. 138-140. West Twenty-third Street, New York. When ordering, please do not fail to mention number and to indicate that this coupon is from The Times-Dispatch.

No. 4483,

MILLIONAIRE LEFT

character will be received and appreciated by the managers of the mission who will see that everything is used to the best advantage.

Mr. W. M. Best and his son, and Mr. Neal, of Ounxsulawney, Jefferson county, Pa, have returned home after a brief visit to Mr. D. W. Shrecengost, on Fulton Hill.

Henrico Council, No. 733, Royal Arcanum, will meet to-night at Nelsen's Hall.

Powhatan Council, Daughters of Liberty, will hold its regular woekly Ression to-night at Korse's Hall, Orleans Street. No meeting was held last Thursday night on account of Thankagiving holiday.

John A. Archer and L. H. Kemp, Jr., of Varina, returned Tuesday from Charles City County, where they have been doing some profitable hunting. They succeeded in bagging two deer, five wild turkeys, thirty-sig partridges and about a dozen "old hares." Mr. Kemp is extremely well pleased at the hunting of his prize setters. Henrico Belte and Don Pedro, their showing being most excellent.

Miss Nora Widerman, of Baltimore, Md.

lig of held of their showing being most excellent.

Miss Nora Widerman, of Baltimore, Md., who has been visiting the Misses Grine, on Denny Sirrest, have returned home.

The Junior Auxiliary Society of the Weddell Memorial Episcopal chapet will meet to-night at the home of Miss Annie Gayle, on Louisiana Street.

Miss Susie Harden, of Buckingham county, its visiting Mrs. J. R. Elam.

The box party given Tuesday night at the home of Miss Junior Stags, under the surpless of the Cup of Cold Water Circle of the King's Daughters and Sons, was a decided success.

Mr. Charles Butler is able to be out after a recent illness.

a recent illness.

John Ball, the dighteen-year-old son of linnly Ball, watchmah of the Richmond Cedar Works, is extremely ill at the home of his parents on Graham Street.

A hunting party passed through Fulton year-torday morning en rogte to lower James River. The party will hunt wild ducks along the river, and carried with them a boat, a coop of ducks, which will be used as decoys, and several dogs. and several dogs.

Mr. D. W. Shrecengost in erecting a double tenement dwelling on East Louisiana Street.

J. P. Morgan Re-elected.

(Snecial to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—J. Plerpont Morgan was ro-elected a warden of St. George's Church yesterday at the annual meeting of the parish. Mr. Morgan has held the position for many terms and has been a member of the church since 1853. He is 4n his sixty-eighth year. John Noble Steams is the other warden.

The Missouri Kiss.

A Missouri paper gives this description of a kiss: "To one piece of dark plazza add a little moonlight, take for quantities add a little mocalight, take for quantities two people. Press into two strong ones a small, soft hand. Sift slightly two ounces of attraction, one of romance, add a large measure of folly, stir in a floating ruffle and one or two whiskers. Dissolve a half dozen glances in a well of slience; dust a small quantity of hesitation, one ounce of resistance, two of yielding, a kiss on a flushed cheek, or two lips; flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool. This will succeed in any climate if directions are fully followed.

Don't Like Quiet Sunday.

The enforced Sunday rest which has been introduced into Spain is causing much dissatisfaction in all commercial and industrial centres. It is considered likely that the cortes will repeal the law.

The Usual Size of Him.

Little Eimer-Papa, what is a hypo-chondriac?
Professor Broadhead—A hypochondriac, my son, is a person who has no disease, but many complaints.—Puck.

"And the Lady Maude is our single child. All our name and lands center the saulre.

MUCH TO VIRGINIANS

Will of Richard M. Scruggs, of St. Louis, Admitted to Probate.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ST. LOUIS, MO., November 20.-The will of Elehard M. Scruggs, the millionaire philanthropist, who died recently, leaves much to Virginia, of which State he was a native,

The Lynchburg Presbyterian Orphanage
Home gets $10.000, and the Assembly
Home and School, Fredericksburg, $5,000.
The testator left to James Rieves Holt, in trust, $15,000 for Elia J., widow of John W. Holt, Lynchburg, to go to Bertha.

John W. Holt, Lynchburg, to go to Berthal Terry, whose of R. Stockton Terry, should his sister not survive; $10,000 for his half sister, Virginia R. Cobbs, of Somerset, Va., and $6,000 for Holt's grandfather, James Rice Holt, to be divided at death equally among Mildred Holt and Berry Innes, R. Holt and Trustee James Reoves Holt.

He also left to Holt $15,000, in trust, for Innes R. Holt, one-half to be used at the legatee's death for Mildred Holt Tearry and the rest to the trustee.

at the legatee's death for Mildred Holt Herry and the rest to the trustee.

Mr. Scruggs left to W. Frank Cartes $15,000 for Mildred Holt Berry and other legatees; James Reeves Holt, W. Frank Carter and Richard G. Terry, Lynchburg. $15,000 each; $10,000 each to Mildred L. Kinnier, Lynchburg, and his neptlew, Ridgeway Holt, of Yellow oprings, Va. He also left $40,000 to James Aceves Holt, of St Louis, for his brother, James M. of St. Louis, for his brother, James M. Scruggs, of Robertson's, Va.

ARMOUR CHILD, TREATED BY LORENZ, FULLY CURED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, November 30.—Walking with only the slightest trace of a limp and sharing the delight of her parents in her apparently complete recovery. Loint Armour, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, of Chicago, returned to this country yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II., of the North Chrman Lloyd Line, after a final visit to Dr. Adolf Lorenz, the Vienna surgeon, whose operation was responsible for the cure.

equally enthusiastic.

A beautiful line of Magic Lanterns and Moving-Picture Machines from 10c. to from 10c to $5.00.

Rare going to have toys for Christmas; you are going to make your children

happy, and your friends happy by giving them some remembrance at this joyous season. You want the best for your money, and you want toys that will lastthese you can get only

Our toys are all open and ready for inspection. Come and look them over now before the rush. It is less than thirty more business days

until Christmas. Do you realize it? There are some things if you don't buy NOW,

you won't get at all. Look over this list:

sizes and shapes,$4.25

to $14.00.

Automobiles, all

Handy Wagons.

Goat Wagons, Coast-

ers, Torpedoes, Irish

Mails, Police Patrols,

Chemical Wagons.

Hook and Ladders at en Wagons and Carts

A fine line of Wood-popular prices.

est line of mechanical toys-Steam Engines, Trains, Workshops and Attachments ever ture-Bureaus, Chiffoniers, Washstands, Roller-Top Desks, Chairs. All useful articles, not playthings, at your own price. They are marked down to sell. Our store is too small, and boards, some of them real slate, 25c. to $5.

Let us repeat-if you expect to get waited on and have your Christmas shopping a pleasure, come now and select your Quarles Co.

Incorporated,

Burley. "We have yet time to ride through the further end of the pass,"

"We're we a proop of mountain goats we might do so," answered Sir William Felton, "but it is not so be passed by a company of horsemen. If these be indeed Don Tello and his men, then we must bide where we are, and do what we can to make then rue the day that they found us in their path."

"Well spekten, William!" cried Sir Nigel, in high delight. "If there be so many as has been said, then there will be much honor to be gained from them and every hope of advancement. But the sound has ceased, and I fear that they have gone some other way."

"Or mayhap they have come to the mouth of the gorge, and are marshaling their ranks Hush and hearken! for they are no great way from us."

"You should rub them with water glue," quoth Johnston. "You remember, Samkin, that it was wetter than this on the morning of Creey, and yet I cannot call to mind that there was aught amiss with our strings."

"It is in my thoughts," said Black Simon, still pensively grinding his sword,
"that we may have need of your strings ere sundown. I canned of the red cow "And why have I not heard this from strings are as limp as a cow's tail aim high in this matter. Our blood is "And mine also is very old," answered

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

CHAPTER XXXVI—continued.)

CHAPTER XXXVI—continued.)

CHAPTER XXXVI—continued.)

If the please you. To answered, "I and the time others are the body-supply of the time of time of Both Mr. and Mrs. Armour expressed themselves as being very happy over the outcome of the treatment and Lullta was equally enthusiastic.

"Our daughter is completely restored," said Mrs. Armour, "and atthough she will limp somewhat for a time we consider the cure a complete success."

Dr. John Ridlen, who assisted in the operation, is authority for the statement that the fee paid to Dr. Lorenz by Mr. Armour was $30,000.

of kinglise were six and insteading meanly to the ominous sound, "It is a great body of horse," said Sir William Felton, "and they are riding very swiftly hitherwards."
"Yet they must be from the prince's army," remarked Sir Richard Cautson, cavaliers upon us."

"But the mist covers us," said Sir Simon Burley. "We have yet time to ride through the further end of the pass."
"Web's work."

4To Be Continued To-morrow

which would call the eyes of men upon him.

Alleyne was still seated on the rock, his griefs and his joys drifting swiftly over his mind like the shandow of clouds upon a sunlit meadow, when of a sudden he became conscious of a low, deep sound which came booming up to him through the fog. Close behind him he could liear the murmur of the bowmen, the occasional bursts of hearse laughter, and the champand the stamping of their horses. Behind it all, however, came that low-pitched, deep-toned hum, which seemed to come from every quarter and to fill the whole are. In the old monastic days he remembered to have heard such a sound waen he had walked out one windy night at Bucklershard, and had listened to the long waves breaking upon the shingly shore. Here, however, was neither which nor sea, and yet the dull murmur rose ever louder and stronger out of the heart of the rolling sea of vapor. He turned and fun to the camp, shouting an alarm at the top of his voice.

It was but a hundred paces, and yet eve the lind crossed it every bowman was ready at his horse's head, and the group of knights were out and listening intently to the ominous sound.

"It is a great body of horse," said Sir which would call the eyes of men upor $12.00. The finest and larg-imported to the South, 25c. o $12.00. Children's Furni-they must go. A fine line of Black-"Yet they must be from the prince's army," remarked Sir Richard Cautson, "for they come from the north."

"Nay," said the Earl of Angus, "it is not so certain; for the peasant with whom we spoke last hight said that it was rumored that Don Tello, the Spanish king's brother, had ridden with six thousand chosen men to beat up the prince's camp. It may be that on their backward road they have come this way."
"By'St, Pauli" cried Sir Nigel, "I think that it is even as you say, for that same peasant had a sour face and a shifting eye, as one who bore us little good will. I doubt not that he, has brought these cavaliers upon us."

Christmas presents.

J.E.

105 E. Broad